It is expected that parliament will prorogue about June 19th.
Premier Laurier sailed from New York for England yesterday.
Sir John Macdonald's grave was decorated in Kingston on Saturday.
Mgt. Merry Del Val arrived in Winnipeg and a great demonstration was held yesterday.

TO-DAY'S TRAIN.

Two cars merchandise for McKenzie, Pavia & Co; one car merchandise for G. F. & J. Galt.

LOCAL.

TRAIN left Calgary on time.
PRESBYTERIAN concert to-morrow night.
R. SMOOK leaves for the Landing in the morning.
A MEETING of the jubilee celebration committee to-morrow night.
D. BROS. of this town intends shipping a car load of live hogs to Calgary this week.
W. CLARK and John S. Edmondson, are expected in from the north via the Landing about the end of the week.
The "Athabasca" left the Landing for Grand Rapids on Wednesday last at 9 o'clock, taking the police detachment into the north.
OWING to the reports of Irishmen the meeting called on Friday night to organize a St. Patrick's society was indefinitely postponed.

The contract for supplying the lunches for the school children, who will attend the diamond jubilee celebration here, was awarded to T. G. Lauder.

A special sermon appropriate to Her Majesty's coming celebration will be preached by Canon Newton in the church at Poplar Lake on Sunday the 20th inst.

LACOMBE will hold a celebration and picnic on the first of July. The usual programme of sports has been prepared. A large amount of money will be given in prizes and no effort is being spared to make the celebration an unqualified success.

Almighty Voice had apparently been wounded by a shell in the early part of the cannonading. His legs were shattered and broken in the reports, but he had bound them up with pieces of poplar wood and rags for bandages and continued the fight.

In another column will be noticed the advertisement of Frank Brosseau, of St. Albert, who is endeavoring to ascertain the whereabouts of his son, Leo, who left Edmonton in April, 1896. Mr. Brosseau would be obliged to other papers which will kindly copy.

SOME boys who were having a pitched battle with skyrockets on Jasper avenue on Saturday night narrowly escaped blinding one of their number. A rocket struck him on the eye brow and had it been half an inch lower would probably have ruined the sight of the eye.

JACK FLYN came in from the Landing on Friday and will take Mr. McLean's surveying party out to the Sturgeon to-morrow. Bush fires are raging at the Landing. They are the worst that have ever been known there. Brown's stables and some outbuildings of Peter Pruden's were destroyed, besides immense quantities of timber. The Indians of the North do not view with any satisfaction the establishment of police outposts throughout their country.

FRANK SMITH, a coal miner at the Sturgeon river, was painfully injured in a peculiar manner on Saturday last. He had stopped work and hung up his pick on a pin over his head and stooped to pick up his pipe which he had dropped when the pick fell from the pin, the point striking him on the left shoulder and sinking through the flesh and muscle for about three inches. It was some little time before he, with the assistance of his companion, could remove the pick, after which he came into town and had the wound dressed. He is at the hospital for a few days and will no doubt soon be around again as no serious results are anticipated.

A DISPATCH from Prince Albert, dated May 31st, says the men wounded by Almighty Voice are progressing favorably. Captain Allan is doing fairly well. Dr. Keade, who is in attendance, hopes to be able to save the arm. It is his right arm and is shattered about two inches below the shoulder. After he had fallen from his horse the Indian ran up to within a few feet and tried to shoot again, but his gun would not go off. Sergt. Raven was brought from Duck Lake by Saturday's train and is now in the hospital barracks, doing well. He is shot through the fleshy part of the right leg, and in the groin. He is, however, reported. He received two other shots passing across his breast, cutting his clothing, the other piercing his coat on the right side.

CONST. JEALOUS, of the N. W. M. P., returned from Regina on Monday and left for the Fort on Tuesday afternoon. He was one of the squad sent from Regina to Duck Lake and participated in the fracas there. Almighty Voice was undoubtedly struck by a shell as the whole back of his head was blown away. The general opinion of the attacking party is that the Indian outlaw had shot himself and that the wound from the shell had been made after death. This idea arose from the fact that he had been shot with a revolver, and a weapon comparing in calibre with the wound made was found near where he lay. He tried to escape on Saturday night but was fired on and was seen to drop the crutch which he was using and seek cover in the bluff. After the final charge the crutch was found near the bluff with Const. Kerr's tunic fastened on the top for a shoulder pad.

J. K. McLEAN, D. L. S., who has been commissioned by the department of the interior to survey the Athabasca trail, arrived on last train and expects to start out to-morrow. Mr. McLean's first work will be to survey the Athabasca trail from the Sturgeon river north to the Landing, covering the present trail into a surveyed government road. At the Landing Mr. McLean will survey a number of river lots from the land fronting on the river on each side of the H. B. Co. reserve, after which he will survey the outlines of some townships east of Lac St. Ann, returning to Edmonton when the work is complete, which he expects will be in about six weeks. Mr. McLean will also survey some townships near the Beaver and Hay lakes, and afterwards go south to Macleod. He expects to start north to-morrow. R. W. Lendrum, D. L. S., of South Edmonton, goes as assistant surveyor.

W. A. FRASER returned from Victoria on Saturday where he had been getting the oil boring operations under way. He leaves today for the Landing to start operations there.

At the gun club shoot on Saturday the gold button was won by H. B. Spratt, the silver by A. H. Martin and the bronze by J. H. Morris. Geo. Purchas won the medal for the green shoot.

Geo. Thompson has secured the position in J. A. McDougall's store formerly filled by Jack Sherr. T. Macnechie who came up from Toronto to take the position, went up from Toronto to take the position, went up from Toronto to take the position.

FOR SALE: Macdonnell & Co. to W. B. Stennett, $420.00. A large lot brought in by Felix Borden was put up for competition the highest bid being that of the H. B. Co. at $967.77. Borden would not sell at the price offered and withdrew the lot from sale.

MR. HEWITT with his wife and family came in on last train from Long Island U. S. A. and will make their future home near Edmonton. Mr. Hewitt was for some time superintendent of a large farm on Long Island but failing health made it necessary for him to move to a more congenial climate.

THE BULLETIN is in receipt of a high class sample of the printer's art, consisting of a beautifully lithographed sixty-four page pamphlet, descriptive of the mining camps and cattle ranges of Kamloops and containing many cuts of the pioneers of the district with sketches of their lives. This pamphlet, which is published by Baillie & Bennett, of Kamloops, is worthy of preservation as a nineteenth century sample of the art preservative.

IF the Lardau and Big Bend country does not boom even greater than did the West Kootenay, it will not be through insufficient advertising. The Calgary Herald has published a special eight page edition rich in the auriferous vernacular of the mining camp, booming that part of the West. We are also in receipt of a new gotten up supplement to the special Lardau edition, containing lithographic reproductions of photographs of the Golden West taken by the Herald's artist.

NO ROOM AT THE JUBILEE.

Messrs. Wingate & Johnston, a prominent shipping firm in London, England, writing to Mr. Korman, their agent in Toronto, say: "We think in all kindness to our Canadian friends that they would like to learn the situation as to the hotel, etc., accommodation in London from the 1st June until after the Jubilee. The following is an extract from one of our leading newspapers:—There is no further accommodation to be got for love or money in any of the hotels in the centre of London, and so vast is the demand that the hotels and boarding houses miles away from Charing Cross are beginning to benefit from the Jubilee. One curious fact is that now, six weeks before the Jubilee day, you cannot get any hotel or restaurant on the line of route to contract to supply food on that occasion."

THE SCUM OF OTHER LANDS.

Immigration commissioner McCreary is in receipt of a copy of a letter sent by the department of the interior to the manager of the Hanna steamship line. The letter calls attention to the fact that in the party of Galicians which arrived in Canada recently and sent to Manitoba and the Northwest there are a number of people who are miserably poor and who have become charges of the government. They refuse to accept such employment as the immigration commissioner offers them and what to do for them has become a perplexed question. The management of the steamship company is informed that it may be called upon to carry these people back to where they came from. The Galicians who arrive in Canada recently and sent to Manitoba and the Northwest there are a number of people who are miserably poor and who have become charges of the government. They refuse to accept such employment as the immigration commissioner offers them and what to do for them has become a perplexed question. The management of the steamship company is informed that it may be called upon to carry these people back to where they came from.

POLICE COURT.

At the police barracks on Friday a case of assault came up before Geo. W. Gairdner, J. P. The accused was found guilty and fined $5 and costs.

The case of Kettys vs. Allen, obtaining money under false pretences, came up for hearing but was dismissed as it had been settled between the parties out of court, and the prosecutor withdrew the complaint.

Geo. Mott, a man with an unsavory reputation and a penchant for appropriating other people's property, walked into the Queen's hotel yesterday and picked up a pair of new blankets which he endeavored to walk off with. Unfortunately for him several people across the street saw the act and being suspicious informed the proprietor of the hotel who investigated and found a pair of blankets missing. The police were informed and as a result Mott was arrested by town constable Campbell, with the goods in his possession and while he was trying to dispose of them, and as a result he spent the balance of the day in the seclusion of the barracks' coop. The case came up before Messrs. Snyder and Edmondson, J. P.'s, this morning at 10 o'clock. The accused pleaded guilty and offered as an extenuating circumstance in excuse of his guilt that "he was drunk and didn't know what he was doing." As this was the third offence and as the excuse was getting somewhat threadbare, having done duty on the two previous occasions, Mott was sent down to Fort Saskatchewan where for four months at least he will be out of temptations way.

Another parcel of clothing purloined by Mott on some previous occasion was produced for identification, but as his memory was bad he could not remember where he got it. The parcel, which consists of clothes, therefore awaits identification at the barracks and will be handed over to the proper owners.

IN THE EYES OF UNCLE SAM.

The Detroit Journal, in commenting on the proposed plebiscite, says: "We hazard a guess right here that the people of Canada will not vote for total prohibition, and that the plebiscite will show a big popular majority against it. And it will not necessarily be a setback for the temperance cause if such should be the result, for total prohibition in Canada would not prohibit. The experiment would result in a tremendous loss of revenue and the establishment of thousands of back-alley, up-garret, and dark-basement doggeries in defiance of the laws, which public sentiment and the officials would fail to enforce except in spots. Total prohibition in Canada is a dream, and not this side of the millennium will it ever become a reality."

JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

At the meeting of the management committee of the jubilee celebration held on Thursday night, the following business was transacted.

Communications were read from the teachers of South Edmonton, Agricola and Spruce Grove schools stating that their pupils would be pleased to accept the invitation of the committee and participate in the children's parade and from the town clerk stating that the sum of $300 had been granted by the council towards defraying expenses of school children's entertainment.

It was decided to charge the entrance fee for the farmer's race from ten to fifteen per cent.

Also to change the prizes for the Indian pony race from two prizes to three, namely, $5, $4 and $3, and to add to athletic sports a half mile race for Indians for which three prizes would be given, 1st and 2nd, two shot guns, 3rd $1. A half mile hurdle race for Indian horses, three prizes, $5, $4 and $3, was also added.

The committee also decided to call for tenders for the supplying of lunches for 800 children, persons supplying lunch to also furnish three barrels of lemonade, and it was further decided to supply each teacher or person in charge of school children with a meal ticket.

Speaking in the house on Friday last Frank Frost, the well known agricultural implement manufacturer, gave information that the manufacturers would shortly reduce the price of implements throughout Canada as a result of the reduction of duties on raw material.

It is understood when Premier Laurier goes to England next week Sir Richard Cartwright will lead the house although an effort will be made to wind up the business of the house by the middle of June. It is hard to tell if it can be done. There is still a large amount of business to transact, and Davin is still irrepressible.—Winnipeg Tribune.

SESSION NOTES.

OTTAWA, May 29, '97.

The debate on the preferential clause of the tariff still continues, although it has been talked threadbare by the opposition. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Hon. Mr. Foster, Messrs.
Bennett and Clancy took up the parable for the opposition on Thursday.
Hon. Mr. Laurier, and Messrs. Frost, Rodgers and Charlton spoke on the government side. The chief ground of opposition to this clause still rests on the allegation, or supposition, that it means a general reduction of 25 per cent. on the whole of the tariff as scheduled to all countries of the world, except the United States, and the direful results which will thereby ensue to the Canadian workmen are pictured in dreary colors. The opposition seem to have lost sight of the fact—to even a greater degree than the government—that on the 23rd of June last the people demanded the readjustment of the tariff in favor of the producer and consumer; even at some expense to the protected manufacturer. That the manufacturer had his turn; and that the voters desired now to give the mass of the people their turn. Hon. Mr.
Foster argues that inasmuch as the revised tariff withdraws protection from any industry it is to be opposed to that extent. He seems to lose sight of the fact that this was the very issue upon which the people voted, and that they most overwhelmingly voted, to have the reduction made. Admitting all that the opposition say in regard to the almost worldwide comprehensiveness of the so-called preferential provisions, they still have the effect of a retaliatory policy upon our southern neighbors, in reply to the Dingley bill, which is acknowledged to be specially aimed at Canada. Setting aside all other features, this would certainly be a most popular feature of the new tariff.
At present, however, the world-wide application of the preferential clause is purely supposition and imagination.
It is only actually applied to Britain, and, in all probability, Britain is the only country to which it will be applied, except on the compensating conditions laid down. It is more than likely, rather than be forced into giving a 25 per cent. concession to countries which do not give a compensating concession, that a readjustment will be made which will give particularly low duties on particularly British imports.

Mr. Bennett brought up the much talked question of export duties on saw-logs and pulp wood, which had not, otherwise been formally placed before the House. He said the saw-mills of Michigan were kept running, to a large extent, on Canadian logs, and that lumber from these same mills cut out Canadian manufactured lumber to a large extent in Western Ontario. Mr. Charlton opposed the proposed duty on saw-logs and pulpwood on the ground that it would only injure Canadian labor as applied to the production of saw-logs and pulp-wood, and would cause the United States duty against Canadian lumber to be so much more greatly increased as to absolutely prohibit the export of Canadian lumber to the States. He, however, made the extraordinary announcement for such a pronounced free-trader, that, if the Dingley bill were finally passed with its present provision for a duty of $2 a thousand on Canadian lumber, he would be in favor of imposing a like duty on United States lumber coming into Canada. He asserted that the excitement gotten up in regard to the export of pulp-wood was strictly artificial, and was the work of a United States Pulp company which had established a mill on the Canadian side at the Sault, and who wished to relieve themselves from the competition of the United States pulp mills in the price they had to pay for the pulp-wood to the settlers on the Canadian side, who cut the wood while clearing their land.

The papers in regard to the fast Atlantic steamship-line were laid on the table last night. The agreement provides for four 10,000 ton steamers, having a speed of 21 knots per hour, a freight capacity for 1500 to 2000 tons of ordinary freight and 500 tons of cold storage freight, with passenger accommodation for 300 first, 200 second, and 800 steerage; the latter to be carried at $15 per head. The vessels are to be equal to the Cunard-ers Lusitania and Campania, and will run to Quebec and Montreal in summer, and to Halifax or St. John in winter. The first two steamers will be put on before the 31st of May, 1899, giving a fortnightly service; and the remaining two in May, 1900, which will give a weekly service.

They will carry the mails so that the present cost of carriage of the mails is to be deducted from the total subsidy in order to reach the actual additional cost of the new service.
They are bound not to discriminate against Canadian railways, accept a subsidy from any other country, or call at any foreign port.

Hon. Mr. Laurier leaves for England on the 3rd of June, and the cabinet are very busy straightening up business for his departure. There is nothing definite about the close of the session. It is generally hoped that it will not extend to the end of June; and it may not, if the business is confined to the estimates and the tariff items. If new and important questions, such as the railway policy and the plebiscite, are introduced, it is hard to say when the end will be reached.

A bill has been introduced by the solicitor-general to raise the controllers of customs and of inland revenue to cabinet rank, which means an increase of $2,000 each on their salaries.
No abolition of any of the existing cabinet positions is in prospect.

The bill introduced by Mr. Sifton to amend the Northwest Territories act makes a number of amendments to the present act. The principal are:
To give the executive committee the standing of a cabinet in advising the lieutenant-governor. The supreme court on banc sit at such place as the lieutenant-governor-in-council may direct. The appointments of sheriffs and clerks of the court is vested in the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

All road allowances according to township survey are definitely placed under the control of the Territorial government. Old trails are to be surveyed and set apart on the recommendation of and under instructions from the lieutenant-governor-in-council. The lieutenant-governor-in-council may close up any road allowances or trails or open new roads allowances not otherwise provided for as they may find necessary.

LIQUOR LICENSE ORDINANCE AMENDMENTS.

Among other amendments, the ordinance of 1896 have the following material additions to the present Liquor license ordinance.

"In any licensed hotel there shall be no connection between the bar room and other portion of the premises by means of windows, wickets, elevators, chutes, openings of any kind, or sliding, folding or other kind of doors, except one door opening directly out of the bar room into a public hall or office of the licensed premises.

In any licensed hotel full view of the interior of the bar room shall not, during prohibited hours, be obstructed by means of screens, shades, blinds, or frosted, ground or coloured windows.

No billiard, pool or other tables shall be permitted in the bar room of any licensed hotel. No liquor shall be sold or supplied in any room in any licensed premises set apart or used for such games."

These provisions come into force on the first day of July 1897.

THE JUBILEE SQUAD.

The contingent of the Northwest Mounted police, selected as a portion of the Canadian Jubilee regiment passed through the city to-day, en route to Quebec, in a tourist car, from which port they sail on Saturday for England. Capt. Williams, of the barracks, and many citizens were at the depot to greet the soldiers, who were dismissed for one hour and allowed to spend the time with friends. Superintendent Perry is in command of the contingent, and is accompanied by Mrs. Perry, and the roll includes the names of Sergt-Major McDonell, Staff-Sergeants Bagley and Brooke, Sergeants General, Derosier, Crossway, Clott, Stewart, Marshall and Davis, Corporals Pulham, Light, Byrne, Nichols, Tennant, McNair and Jones, Constables Ambrose dierly in bearing. The Canadian

The Græco Turkish war is still undecided and in much the same position as it was before the two nations started warring.

The Cheyenne Indians are on the warpath, and are said to have killed almost a dozen men including five U.
S. soldiers. White settlers are up in arms and women and children are being sent to northern towns for safety.
Cavalry and infantry have been sent from Forts Keogh and Custer.

The police jubilee contingent left Regina on the 1st inst. They marched to the depot accompanied by the N.
W. M. P. band, arriving there just as the train bearing the men returning from Duck Lake pulled in. It was a very enthusiastic occurrence, nearly all the population of Regina being at the depot, and the cheers for the home coming veterans and those of farewell to the Jubilee boys mingled as they cheered one another.

"T'S A POOR BENIGHTED EATHEN."

The Nor'-Wester has the following comments on the death of the daring Indian who won notoriety, but found that "the paths of glory lead but to the grave."

"One cannot help admiring the way in which Almighty Voice when driven to bay, defied his pursuers, however much we may deplore the deaths of the poor fellows who were the victims of his death struggle. There was real grit in the redskin; and the manner in which he so long held that little bluff against the large force sent to destroy him will make him a hero in the war songs of his tribe. Perhaps it was no wonder he jeered scornfully at the army that was for hours ineffectually firing ball, shrapnel and canister at him.
The elaborate efforts ultimately made to capture him certainly do appear ludicrous when compared with their effects. The bluff was shelled from a seven-pounder all Saturday evening.
On Sunday morning, it was shelled from a nine-pounder, commencing at 6 a. m. and continuing till 10 a. m., and it was not until 2.30 on Sunday afternoon that a charge was made and as a result of the charge, Almighty Voice brought out of the bluff dead; but whether he died from the effect of the shelling or from rifle shots fired during the charge does not seem quite clear. It then transpired that he and the young buck with him had only one good rifle and a pistol, had no ammunition left, and had been without provisions for several days, subsisting in the meanwhile on the bark of trees and two crows. What are we to think when, under such unfavorable circumstances, one determined Indian and a young lad could hold such a force at bay for so long a period? Whether we attribute it to the prowess of the Indian or to the mismanagement of the capturing expedition, the fact is not pleasant to contemplate. The suggestion at once arises: If one Indian under such disadvantageous circumstances could hold such a force at bay for so long, what could a band of Indians on the war-path do; when they would be well armed and supplied?
And one cannot help wondering what will be the moral effect on the Indian population of the spectacle of this one brave so long defying and so long successfully defying, 93 men and two field guns. There is no doubt that the effect will be most mischievous.

The police force should be strengthened rather than reduced; the Indian commissioner should be sent back to the Indian Territory. The militia in Manitoba should be put in a state of thorough efficiency; and the militia system should be extended to the Territories without delay. Canada cannot afford to run any risks. If Almighty Voice has taught us that lesson, he will not have lived, murdered and died in vain."

CHAPTER IV.

CLIMATE AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS.

Knowing from a personal experience of upwards of thirty years that the climate of the Canadian prairies is preferable in almost every respect to that of Great Britain, and that neither would my many fellow old country men nor I exchange that of our new home for that of our native land, it has always been a matter of regret that so many old country people should be deterred from coming to Canada by a mistaken idea of the severity of its climate. This false idea is due to various causes amongst which a few may be mentioned.

The greatest deterrent of emigration to Canada is that very reliable instrument the thermometer, which, frequently registers a degree of cold in which human life could not exist in the damp climate of Britain. The tremendous difference between the heat conducting power of a damp and a dry atmosphere cannot be realized by old country people who have never left their native land. Dry air is the most efficacious non-conductor of heat, and the Canadian, living in, and surrounded by such an atmosphere is well protected against extreme cold or intense heat by this exemplification of the rule of nature, which produces side by side the poison and its antidote, the disease and its remedy; and the extremes of temperature with the shade, shelter, food and fuel, and atmosphere conditions required to protect her creatures against the elements.

Misrepresentation by jealous rivals for immigration is another potent cause. And as strong inducements are needed to cause an intelligent free-born Briton to change his allegiance to a country inhabited by so large a proportion of the foes of his race, and misruled by them, most unscrupulous misrepresentations are used tending to show Canada to be a cold bleak region impossible of contented life. A place associated with Siberian exile and penalties. A remote region where the graces and amenities of civilization are unknown. Replying to such a recent slander the "Brooklyn Eagle," a newspaper representing that honorable and broad-minded class, which is in so regrettable a minority in the United States, says in a recent article: "In climate Ireland has the advantage of the Gulf stream, but it has not the clear, strong bracing air of the prairies, nor is its soil so deep and rich and workable. In the winter the cold is sharp, but it is not the damp searching rheumatic chill of the coast. Though new, the towns have all the characteristics of western towns on our side of the line, saving only their roughness. The people are industrious and average sober and intelligent. They follow modern methods in their agriculture, they support daily papers, their cities have the same police and fire systems, the same telephones, hotels and theatres, the same pavements as ours, and the prosperity of the country is probably not less than our own land. Villages are increasing, manufactures growing * * *, and all the conditions are such as invite settlement. In the ample room under cloudless skies, with vast ranges awaiting the plow and the sickle, in quick touch through the railroad with the rest of the world * * *, the men and women who take up homes in the farming belt to the north of us should be prosperous and happy."

The only other source of these false impressions of our climate of which mention will be made herein is the continual misrepresentation of Canada by means of wintery views and descriptions. From these pictures no doubt many Britons have naturally derived the impression that there is only one season in Canada—everlasting winter with eternal snow; and that its inhabitants go about their every day avocations perpetually wrapped up in furs. Even the summer dress of Canadians is burlesqued and misrepresented by the vanity of youths, newly arrived in the country, sending home photographs in which they appear in the warlike array of dime novel desperadoes. An amusing instance of this attracted my notice one day when passing a photographic studio, outside which amongst other samples of the art was exhibited the figure of a blood curdling desperado, dandy got up to kill. Arrayed in the fringed buckskin shirt and leggings and moccasins of the noble red man, with a full-furred foxskin and tail for his head-dress, stood a figure in the act of discharging a revolver with his right hand and lunging out with a bowie knife with his left hand. A full cartridge belt encircled his waist in which were stuck another pistol, a tomahawk and a wood-choppers axe. Fire and fury seemed to flash from his visage, in which it took me some time to recognize the very insignificant features of a lad whose useful, but by no means sanguinary ordinary occupation was that of assistant to a working tailor in town.

Whilst Canadians rejoice in the beautiful snow of their bright sparkling winter, and know it to be one of the greatest blessings of nature to their country, more especially in affording such splendid roads during a season which in some other countries is characterized by slush and mud and downpours of rain and sleet; yet are they also the fortunate inhabitants of a country which eight months of the year can boast of a spring, summer and autumn time of weather unexcelled by any and enjoyed by few other lands. If during these seasons, when radiant with flowers and in verdure clad, Canada were depicted in Europe to as large an extent as she has been as the asylum of exiled youths who wear mid snow and ice the habiliments of an Esquimaux, people across the Atlantic would have a truer idea of the country and climate.

It having been demonstrated that the extremes of temperature recorded by the thermometer should be read in connection with the recorded sensations of the human beings who experience these extremes to enable people of other countries to form a true opinion of the climate of Canada, it now remains to record a few meteorological observations.

The figures are derived from the records of the Dominion government's meteorological service, to which I was kindly given access by Mr. Alexander Taylor their observer at Edmonton.

August,	58.8	23.9	2.81
Total			9.06 inches.

A glance at table A will show the observant reader that though Edmonton stands in a higher altitude and latitude than any of the well known places in the Territories and Manitoba with which it is compared, yet on account of its more westerly situation a more temperate climate is experienced, especially during winter in which season the benign influence of the chinook winds from the Pacific is felt with little interruption. Whilst Edmonton in winter is thus subject to this warm air current from the west in which places further east do not participate, the district shares in the benefits, common to all central Canada, derived from the aerial stream which during summer flows north from the Gulf of Mexico bringing with it the heat and moisture needed by the fertile soil of the prairies for the production of the magnificent and wonderful crops of the whole region. The higher northern latitude is also compensated for by the greater length of day during the growing period.

Table B exhibits a mean yearly precipitation of 16.85 inches, and C shows that 9.06 inches of this, or over 50 per cent. of the whole, consists of the rainfall experienced during the months when moisture is most required. The remaining precipitation is distributed as 2.37 inches of rain during the spring month of April and the harvest and autumn months of September, October and November; leaving 54.2 inches of snow (equalling 5.42 inches of rain) to fall during the winter months of December, January, February and March. This accounts for the fact that whilst the climate is dry there is yet sufficient rainfall for crops during the growing season, after and before which the operations of husbandry are not interrupted by unreasonable rains.

HOW THE BAD INDIAN DIED.

A report from Prince Albert dated the 31st, gives the following particulars of the storming of the Indians rifle pits and the killing of the outlaw.

After the first unsuccessful rush during which Hockin, Grundy and Kerr were killed, word was sent for reinforcements, which rapidly arrived.

A detachment of volunteers from Prince Albert under Mr. James McKay, C. C. came with the old and historic seven-pounder and another detachment with Mr. C. E. Boucher, M. L. A., from Batoche, joined Mr. McKay. At this point Regina was communicated with and a detachment of twenty-five policemen, with Assistant Commissioner Melroe and Insp. Macdonnell, with the nine-pounder, left the Northwest capital at 10.30 a. m., and after a splendid run arrived at Duck Lake at 4.30 p. m. Here the scene of the intended capture was found to be the Minichess Hills at a spot about sixteen miles away. No stop was made either for rest or refreshments and the detachment started as soon as the reloading could be accomplished. There was no hitch and the only delay was at the Batoche ferry, which could only accommodate a small portion of the troops at a time. It was 11 o'clock at night ere the last equipage rig arrived at its destination.

All the armed members of the party formed a close cordon around the bluff while the other member bivouacked around a blazing fire. The night was intensely dark and still, the only noise being the sound of Almighty Voice's axe as he worked through the night strengthening his position, and the occasional crack of a rifle as one of the watchers or the watched thought they saw a moving foe. Occasionally a bullet would come whizzing among the embers of the fire, and so the night passed.

At dawn the camp became full of activity and by six o'clock the two cannons were placed in position, pointed to the bluff, and sighted for 700 yards. A bright and beautiful Sabbath in a fair and lovely country was heralded by loud cannonading. This started at 6 a. m., and sharp, canister and ball were rained into the bluff. From 6 to 7 o'clock the white smoke wreathed and the missiles cracked and exploded amongst the trees and bushes. But Almighty Voice neither moved nor uttered a sound. At 9 o'clock the cannonading was resumed, but with no different result and at 10 o'clock the order to cease firing was given. At 2 p. m., a charge was made on the bluff and the Indians found in a pit about five feet deep and 8 feet long which they had evidently dug with a knife which was found lashed to a stick. They had one broken rifle, a good one, and a pistol. Almighty Voice was quite dead, the top of his head being blown off by a shell. There was also a wound in each hand and one of his feet. Another Indian was dead by his side, having evidently been killed by the same shell which silenced Almighty Voice. The third was near the outskirts of the bluff dressed in Sgt. Kerr's breeches and tunic. They had no ammunition except for the pistol and no provisions. They had piled the bark from about thirty trees and eaten it. On Friday they shot two crows that flew over the bluff which, with the bark, is about all the food they had since they took refuge in the bluff. The Indians were buried on the spot and the bodies of the dead policemen removed to Prince Albert where they were buried with military honors.

ANGUS RIDGE.

Postmaster Angus and wife and children visited friends in Edmonton last week.

Mr. Woods, Wetskiwin, who is supplying the Battle River school as minister for the summer, visited several of the people here last week. Mr. Woods is energetic in his work. Let the people of this district be true to God's cause in the Sabbath school and service, and the good work will prosper. Life is short, but eternity is long.

Messrs. J. Richardson and J. Angus are working two farms this year.

Trustee Dowdwell had the misfortune to lose one of his black horses. It fell into the well. They were a nice team.

Mr. Lavocque is visiting relatives in Innisfail at present.

Mr. Dowdwell has sold one of his horses to Mr. Richardson for a handsome consideration.

May 29th.

A TORY DEFICIT.

Ottawa, May 28.—The postmaster general presented his annual report this afternoon. It shows a current public debt of over $600,000, which was not known to exist. Parliament must now vote a special sum of $685,000 to cover this deficit and there will be a big row over it.

LOOKS LIKE WAR.

A London despatch says: The report circulated some time ago that in view of the unsettled conditions prevailing in South Africa, the government had decided to transport an army corps of 30,000 men to that locality is now confirmed by the activity displayed at the quarters of the army service corps in London, Aldershot, Woolwich, Shoreham, Portsmouth, Curragh and Davenport.

In addition to the 30,000 fighting men the expedition will include 800 horses 25,000 mules, 2,400 wagons and 350 carts for transport purposes.

The members of the army reserve in Natal have been notified to hold themselves in readiness. The Transvaal, it is reported, has instructed its field force to thoroughly patrol the Natal border and report instantly any suspicious movement. A circular has been distributed in the Cape and Free State from the Transvaal calling upon all Afrikaners for help.

putting it off any longer as there will be nothing gained by it. If you need any goods of any description now is the time to buy them, and the only question to consider is, where are you going to buy them, where can you do the best and be sure of getting the best value for your money. . . .

This is both a wise and important matter to consider whether times are good or bad. In the opinion of a large number of the most prosperous people in the country, who are the shrewdest and most careful of buyers, McDOUGALL'S is the place the year round, in any kind of times, and no matter what is the size of your purse. No purchasers too small or none too large. One and all receive the very best of values, and they all come back for more.
